

OXFAM Canada Stamp Program - Mail & Email Bid Sale #28

Closing Date: Friday, 29 October 2021 (Postmarked before Midnight)

Welcome to Mailbid 28 which, as you can see from the illustrations above, offers our usual variety of both old and new material including covers, stamps and many collections and country lots. On the left above is an example of pages from a typical world lot... nothing special, but it just happens to be one of the fuller pages in this extensive collection of lower priced worldwide material. We get a lot of donations like this old album, and we try to describe them as fully and accurately as possible. But it is hard for you, the viewer, to get a good impression of them, and we are unable to offer you the chance to view them in person. This makes our descriptions particularly important, and if we can do better, please let us know. In the meantime, we are ready to scan sample pages from some of these collections if you tell us what specifically interests you.

Again we have a section of Ontario postal history including many closed post offices. Although new modern covers are harder for us to get these days, we still have a few sources that allow us to keep envelopes intact, and some of these are in the bulk covers sections. Hopefully the stamp sections have lots of material to fill gaps in your collections.

This auction is a little shorter than normal because we are already starting work on a larger auction timed for CAPEX next Spring. If you would like to receive a paper copy of this catalogue or scans of lots, please let us know at stamps@oxfam.ca. You can also see scans and follow us at <https://www.facebook.com/oxfamstamps/> and at www.ohmygosh.on.ca

About OXFAM-Canada's Stamp Program:

For 40 years, OXFAM-Canada has been raising funds for overseas projects from its volunteer stamp program, primarily from mail order sales, auctions and stamp shows. We have just passed a major milestone, as we have now raised over half a million dollars since the stamp program began. This type of sale is an opportunity to give wide visibility to unusual or "one of a kind" material that we have received. Our June 2021 auction raised over $10,000 and we are on track to raise $30,000 this year. That might seem like a drop in the bucket compared to the scale of the problems of poverty, disease and injustice around the world. We believe, though, that every little step in the right direction can help. For more details and a complete list of all 40 projects supported in 24 countries since 1984, visit www.oxfam.ca and follow the links from: "what you can do" to "Help Stamp Out Hunger".

All the revenue from this auction will go to a new project dealing with the impact of COVID 19, except for about $100 for producing and mailing this catalogue. Some of the most vulnerable communities around the globe are facing unprecedented COVID-19 case numbers while they wait for a vaccine that may take many months to arrive. Each new wave of the virus poses further challenges. Unfortunately, the pandemic shows few signs of slowing down. The devastation is especially high in refugee camps or countries that are already in conflict or crisis, where people struggle to access clean water, nutritious food, health care, safe shelter and other basics that offer protection from COVID-19.

Oxfam Canada is working with its partners, government health ministries and key UN agencies in 68 countries to respond to the crisis in each region most effectively. For example, In Kenya, Myanmar, Nepal and Bangladesh, your support is helping increase the distribution of soap and strengthening sanitation services, including facilities for washing hands, as well as access to drinking water. In Somalia, Indonesia and India, Oxfam is carrying out advocacy work with governments, to influence those with political and economic power, so that no one is left behind. In Gaza, Iraq, South Sudan, and Jordan, Oxfam works to share reliable information. The people who are most at risk of COVID-19 are likely also the people who have less access to information – because of problems with the language used, literacy levels, mobility and even understanding of content. Not all information is equal – in closed societies where women are discouraged from engaging freely, extra effort needs to be made to engage with them.

Almost all Oxfam projects are labour- intensive rather than capital-intensive, in that the money flows directly to local organizations who work to change people's attitudes and actions. The stamp program too is very labour-intensive. Our most popular product is a kilo of stamps on paper. It takes a banker's box of envelopes and many hours of work to produce just one kilo -- but in the process we find a lot of interesting covers and cancellations. We depend entirely on donations - primarily of modern material from churches, companies, organizations and individuals – so we are rescuing and recycling material that would otherwise be lost to the philatelic world. Unfortunately, Oxfam is no longer issuing tax receipts for stamp donations.
